The Demi Travertine Console Table is made of solid travertine. A bevel softens the oval that is carved into the stone on both sides of its pedestal to infuse the tan console table with sophistication, as the cut-out forms an oculus. The way the pedestal tapers to a smaller form toward the top is a shapely design move, as is the chamfered detail under the top. This table has a dynamic personality thanks to the veining in the stone, which means each one will be unique.
