Lambert Extension Dining Table Natural

Extension leaves, meet clean lines. Lambert grows from 81" to 105" fully extended, with a leaf that stores inside for easy access—shifting from everyday meals to longer gatherings without a storage puzzle. Solid oak and oak veneer bring natural warmth to the simple silhouette, while two generous legs give the form quiet presence. A cable glide and metal support bars keep the movement considered. Good table manners, designed right in.

- Flexible Dining Shape: Grows from 81" to 105" fully extended, with a leaf that tucks inside for easy, on-demand storage.
- Oak Warmth: Solid oak and oak veneer bring natural grain and grounded warmth to the tabletop, giving the simple form material character.
- Considered Table Structure: Two generous legs and metal support bars give the table a steady presence while keeping the silhouette open and straightforward.
- Self-Storing Leaf: The extension leaf stores neatly inside the table, making it easier to shift from daily dining to hosting whenever the guest list grows.
