Daifuku Large Dining Table Brushed Natural Oak

Softness, meet solid oak. Daifuku takes its name from a Japanese mochi associated with good luck, and you can see that gentle spirit in every rounded edge. Those generous roundovers give hard wood an unexpectedly cushioned look, keeping the silhouette calm and welcoming from every angle. Crafted from solid oak, it's a dining table that feels warm, intentional, and ready for everyday rituals—no special occasion required.

- Mochi-Soft Lines: Rounded edges create an illusion of softness, bringing a calm, welcoming feel to the room while keeping the profile clean and modern.
- Solid Oak Construction: Made from solid oak with a brushed natural finish that highlights the wood grain and keeps the look warm, grounded, and versatile.
- Careful Shaping: Thoughtfully formed curves and clean connections showcase considered craftsmanship, balancing a substantial feel with an easy, approachable presence.
- Seats 10 Comfortably: A gathering-ready table designed to seat 10, with a steady rectangular surface that supports everyday meals, long conversations, and hosting.
