Mari Side Table Clear

Sculpted light. Framed just right. Mari plays with contrast—from the weight of cast glass to the softness of how it catches light. A rippled surface gives the thick top its organic feel, resting on a hammered iron base that adds grit and grounding. Up close, you'll notice veining and subtle highs and lows that shift throughout the day—like sculpture in motion. Cast for clarity. Framed for contrast.

- Cast Glass with Contrast: A substantial slab of textured cast glass with organic veining rests upon a hand-forged, hammered iron frame.
