KINCAID: WESTWOOD BUREAU

The saying "things aren't made the way they used to be" may have had furniture in mind. But it certainly does not speak for Plank Road or the Westwood Bureau. The Westwood is the taller of the two dressers in the bedroom collection and is built using the same solid wood construction techniques that Kincaid was founded on in 1946 - plus a few new bells and whistles!

- Nine drawers
- Hand-holds in back of case
- Removable jewelry tray in top right drawer
- Top center drawer flips down and pulls out
- Center foot
- New Zealand Pine
