PARKWAY END TABLE

There is a heightened level of interaction with certain pieces of furniture in our daily lives. We particularly might think of the sofa, bed, and dining table that we rely on with daily regularity. But the end table that flanks sits dutifully beside our living room seating deserves some appreciation also! That's why we created the Parkway End Table to live up to the high calling of this important home furnishings role. A great side table needs to achieve two primary roles; to beautifully coordinate with the decor, and to offer added function. This side table does both exceedingly well. Made with solid American Black Walnut, the Parkway End Table uses a clear finish to let the natural walnut character and color come through. Like the rest of the Monogram Collection, it uses softened shapes and edges to keep the style current and transitional and adds a drawer to keep remotes and other items organized.
