WITH

Every BodyRest® recliner is engineered with Luna System, our most advanced motion technology. Steel structured components controlled by four motors all working in concert achieve nearly infinite positions — smoothly, quietly, precisely.

CLOSED POSITION:

Fully upright position maintains a sleek, space-saving form while offering a comfortable seat for conversations or sitting without reclining.

SLIGHTLY OPEN:

Perfect for light relaxation, allowing users to elevate their feet without fully reclining, offering comfort without taking up extra space.

CLOSED, SLIGHTLY TILTED BACK:

Ideal for those who want subtle comfort while reading, watching TV, or sitting up straight but still want a slight back tilt. Relieves pressure on the lower waist and upper legs.

TV POSITION:

Ideal for watching TV or casual lounging, offering equal support of the legs from the waist to your feet, it makes an easy transition between sitting and standing.

RECLINED POSITION:

Maximum relaxation; offers head-to-toe comfort, perfect for napping, lounging, or unwinding after a long day.

RECLINED, HEAD TILT UP:

Fully recline while the headrest supports neck and head to watch TV, read, or browse devices without straining the neck.

ZERO GRAVITY:

Legs elevated to heart level, reducing pressure on the spine and improving circulation; promotes relaxation by distributing weight and relieving stress on joints.

TRENDELENBURG*

Elevates legs higher than the heart, promoting circulation, reducing swelling in the legs and feet, therapeutic benefits for circulation issues and those who want a deeper state of rest.

*It is not recommended to stay in Trendelenburg or any positions where your feet are above your head, for extended periods of time.
