Nia Outdoor Side Table Charcoal

Smooth top, sculptural base, zero fuss. Nia brings a sculptural silhouette to patios, balconies, and the corners indoors that need a strong sidekick. The generous bullnose top feels smooth and substantial, while the shaped base keeps the look architectural without getting fussy. Made from concrete with a textured, plaster-like finish in charcoal, it adds depth without visual noise. Pull it up to a lounge chair, nestle it beside a sofa, and let the shape do the talking.

- Sculptural Sidekick: A rounded bullnose top and carved-looking base give this table an architectural feel that works indoors or out.
- Concrete Character: Concrete construction delivers a grounded, weighty feel, finished in charcoal with a textured, plaster-like look for extra depth.
- Solid, Stable Form: A wide, sturdy profile helps it feel planted next to seating, whether you're styling a patio set or a living room corner.
- Easy Placement: Compact and versatile, it's ready for drinks, books, or a small planter—wherever you need a landing spot that holds its own.
