LIBBY LANGDON FOR FAIRFIELD

Benjamin Dining Table

6335-72-9

Description

The Benjamin Round Dining table features an intricate and architectural pedestal base. The base made up of a series of angled arches that have an inner metal detail that can come in polished nickel or brushed champagne brass, there are also decorative rivets that attach the metal trim to the legs. The wood species is ash, and the beautiful grain is featured in a series of triangular pie shaped pieces on the top, which is highlighted by the cerused espresso finish, leaving just enough white stain into the grain to form a star-like pattern in the center of the tabletop.
