Kenzo Sideboard Natural

Open-grain oak takes the edge off storage. Soft corners run across the Kenzo sideboard's top and frame, giving the piece a warm, approachable profile with grounded presence. A natural oak finish highlights open grain across the door panels, while ash wood legs echo the frame's rounded language in a chunkier, sculptural way. Oak veneer over plywood keeps the body visually consistent. Generous storage, softened at every edge.

- Softened Sideboard Shape: Rounded corners run through the top and frame, giving the Kenzo sideboard a softer silhouette with grounded presence in the room.

- Rounded Ash Legs: Chunky rounded ash wood legs echo the frame's softened corners, adding sculptural detail and a more grounded stance underneath the piece.
- Generous Storage Presence: A wide sideboard profile gives the room a grounded anchor, with storage function wrapped in a softer, approachable shape, keeping everyday storage neatly in reach.
