Jenson Media Unit Brown

Push to open, hide the rest. Jenson keeps your setup looking calm with a classic frame and a deep brown, wirebrushed oak veneer finish that adds depth without visual noise. It's made for real living rooms: display what you like in the open section, stash remotes, cords, and the not-pretty stuff behind push-to-open doors. Oak veneer wraps the exterior for a consistent look, while a rubber wood inner frame supports everyday use. Clean lines, cleaner surfaces, happier streaming.

- Classic Frame, Modern Calm: A structured silhouette in a deep brown, wirebrushed finish keeps your media wall grounded while still feeling light and current.
- Oak Veneer Wrap: Oak veneer covers the front, sides, and top for a consistent grain look that plays well with warm woods and neutral palettes.
- Rubber Wood Inner Frame: Built around a rubber wood inner frame to support the veneered surfaces and help the unit feel steady through daily use.
- Open + Closed Storage: Mix display space with concealed compartments, so speakers and décor can show off while cables, remotes, and extras stay out of sight.
