

Warranty

Classic Home offers a limited 12-month warranty on all its items covering manufacturing defects. Should a valid claim be placed, Classic Home will issue credit for repair or replace the item. Shipping costs are not covered under this warranty and may only be paid at our discretion.

We do not offer a warranty that covers characteristics that are typical of our product type and the material used. This includes, but is not limited to variations in texture, the inherent patina of reclaimed woods, tone of finish, variation in color in both wood finishes, fabric, and leather colors from items shown in any published materials, website images, or showroom samples. This warranty only applies to the frame and springs of upholstered items and excludes wear and tear to covers in all circumstances.

Classic Home is not responsible for any claims resulting from misuse, mishandling by customers or their carriers, inappropriate storage, or exposure to high or low humidity levels typical in a customer's location, seasonal splits, or commercial use of items.

To the fullest extent permitted by California law, Classic Home expressly disclaims all consequential and incidental damages, including loss of profits. To the fullest extent permitted by California law, this limited warranty replaces all implied warranties. No other express warranty is given, including any words or actions by either a Classic Home employee or contractor. Classic Home disclaims all liability for damage caused to our customers due to our inability to supply. This warranty is governed by the laws of California.
