Lia Rectangular Dining Table Dark Brown

If your dining area could talk, it would ask for this table. Lia keeps things warm and grounded with a generous surface that makes hosting feel effortless. The angled legs add just enough visual intrigue—like a subtle architectural move—while the dark brown mango wood brings richness without feeling heavy. Comfortably seating six, it's ready for family-style dinners, game nights, and plus-one moments. Designed to bring people together, then give them a reason to stay.

- Everyday-Host Silhouette: A streamlined dining profile with room to spread out, balancing clean lines with a welcoming presence for shared meals and shared plans.
- Mango Wood Warmth: Made from mango wood in a dark brown finish that adds depth and natural character to both airy and moodier dining spaces.
- Angled-Leg Design: Each leg is positioned at an angle for a dynamic, sculptural base that feels design-forward while staying visually light.
- Seats Six Comfortably: Comfortably six four, making it a smart fit for smaller dining areas, breakfast nooks, and open-plan layouts.
