SERVER, LATTE

Storage is always an important consideration for the well-organized kitchen and dining area of the home. This can be a challenge in spaces that call for casual dining which typically means that the storage is needed for more everyday access instead of fine silver! A cabinet to fulfill this role needs to be accessible, flexible, and casual. It also helps if it's made of solid wood to stand up to the everyday activity in the busiest part of the home. We designed the Kafe Server for this task. It is thoughtfully sized to balance with the Kafe dining tables, it is made with Alder using Kincaid's trusted solid wood construction, and it features both drawer and door storage areas. The two drawers feature soft-close glides while open space behind the doors includes an adjustable shelf to make it easier to tailor how it is used.
