Description

One of the first things you notice is the 4-panel cross-hatch pattern of the wood grain on the top. While the angular pattern makes it feel geometric in nature, the round shape adds an ease and softness. The walnut wood stained in the Smoked Stone finish paired with the champagne brass frame offers great contrast and the lower shelf in black mirror material is reflective and unexpected. The Marlowe End Table is a dynamic design that can be a true statement piece in any room.
