Whit Table Lamp Brown

A paper mache vessel base that feels unearthed, not manufactured. The large, round form anchors the Whit table lamp with a raw, elemental presence that brings warmth and quiet character to a room. Hand-building the base gives it an organic, one-of-a-kind quality, while the warm dark brown finish adds earthy, natural depth. A fabric shade keeps the light soft and grounded. Old-world soul, made to glow.

- Elemental Anchor: The large, round vessel base gives the lamp a grounded, sculptural presence, bringing raw, elemental warmth and character to any surface.
- Hand-Built Character: A paper mache base, formed by hand in a warm dark brown finish, gives every lamp an earthy, one-of-a-kind quality with subtle natural variation.
- Soft, Grounded Glow: A fabric shade casts a soft, even light that settles a room with warmth, suiting a bedside, console, or quiet corner.
