Kaleta Side Table Green Onyx Marble

Stone gets the top billing, wood warms the scene. Kaleta pairs a Green Onyx marble top with an oak wood and MDF column frame, creating a side table that feels sculptural without losing its easy living-room rhythm. Back-to-back columns form a clustered base with design-forward presence, while a thick bullnose edge softens the generous tabletop. Natural veining gives each marble surface its own character. Small table, full personality.

- Sculptural Stone Moment: A natural Green Onyx marble top brings rich color, movement, and one-of-a-kind veining to this compact side table surface overall.
- Warm Mixed Materials: Marble pairs with an oak wood and MDF frame, balancing cool stone character with a warmer, more grounded base below.
- Clustered Column Base: Back-to-back columns create a sculptural base silhouette, giving the table a design-forward presence from every viewing angle with artful dimension.
- Bullnose Edge Detail: A thick bullnose edge softens the tabletop profile, echoing the rounded base and making the generous surface feel considered overall.
