RANKIN RECTANGULAR LEG TABLE

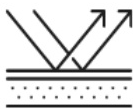

Few pieces of furniture have the timeless endurance of the farmhouse dining table. The best examples are made of solid wood (usually solid pine or solid oak) and show the daily use they were built for. The Rankin Table here follows this formula. It is made with solid New Zealand Pine, includes an optional 5th/center leg for added support, and has the Kinguard performance finish on the top for extra protection against common dining table spills.
