Athena Cast Aluminum Vase Antique Brass

When florals have to share the spotlight. Athena brings presence with a playful edge. Cast in solid aluminum with a wide, sculptural silhouette, it balances soft scalloped detailing up top with boldness below. The finish is subtly textured, the curves are grounded, and the whole thing feels ready to anchor a surface. Whether holding florals or standing solo, it's not one to fade into the background.

- Bold Meets Playful: Scalloped detailing around the top adds visual interest, softening the vase's minimalist lines into something bold and quietly playful on any surface.
- Cast Aluminum Presence: Cast aluminum gives the piece a grounded weight and a subtly textured surface that holds its shape and its place on a table.
- Aged Patina: An aged, patinated finish in antique brass adds depth and character, giving the vase the look of a piece with history behind it.
- Room for Florals: A wide mouth makes space for loose, generous stems, so full arrangements sit naturally without being forced into a tight shape.
