Harris Accent Chair Burgundy

Harris keeps it crisp, then adds just enough texture to make it interesting. The boxy, modern shape feels clean and confident, while tonal piping traces the edges for a finished look. Wrapped in textured polyester and cushioned with foam-and-fiber fill, it's comfortable without looking overstuffed. Inside, a solid mango wood and plywood frame keeps things steady. Use it to sharpen a living room corner—or soften one. Either way, it reads intentional from every angle, too.

- Boxy Modern Lines: Clean, squared-off silhouette balances modern simplicity with a hint of heritage, making it an easy match for mixed interiors.
- Textured Polyester Cover: 100% polyester upholstery in deep burgundy adds depth and warmth, with tonal piping that sharpens the outline.
- Solid Inner Frame: Solid mango wood and plywood construction supports the seat with a stable feel, keeping the chair structured through daily use.
- Comfortable, Supportive Fill: Foam and fiber fill offers a cushioned sit that's easy to settle into, ideal for extra seating or solo lounging.
