For three generations the Century family has crafted furniture in North Carolina at the foot of the Appalachian Mountains. We have always taken care to build pieces that deliver on the promise of our founder, Harley F. Shuford—to create furniture of such impeccable quality that it brings pride to both the customer who purchases it as well as the craftspeople who make it.

Inside this catalog you will find all of Century's Chairs, from smaller, transitional accent chairs to fully upholstered clubs; tall back wing chairs to decorative wood chairs. Each item is handcrafted and tailored to your unique style. We encourage you to personalize these beautiful pieces by choosing from our curated assortment of exquisite fabrics and trims, rich finishes, and unique, decorative upholstery nails.

We have worked hard to arrange this catalog by chair styling to make it an easy reference for every occasional chair and ottoman in our company. Additionally, we have added a star reference system as a way to quickly understand the relative value of each item. Five stars represents Century's highest specification of construction and design, in many cases a hardwood frame and the most labor intense upholstery process of four-way flow matching of fabric, while three stars represents our starting value construction, an engineered, ply-hardwood frame and front to back flow matching of fabric. Of course, all of our chairs are masterfully upholstered and finished and come with the same promise of superior craftsmanship, quality, and comfort.

There is nothing more personal than the spaces we share with our family and friends. That is why here at Century we take furniture personally. From our family to yours, it is an honor to be considered a resource for your home.

OUR ENVIRONMENTAL STEWARDSHIP

At Century our environmental policy is a key element of our corporate philosophy. Since our beginnings in 1947, it has been our culture to be socially responsible with the safety and health of our associates, our business partners, our customers and our natural environment. We are committed to reducing our environmental impact through intelligent design, conservation, and recycling.

We believe the best way to conserve environmental resources is to design and manufacture furniture of such impeccable quality that it will last for generations. Nothing is more wasteful than disposable furniture.

The vast majority of our furniture is manufactured in Hickory, NC from predominantly domestic materials. Very high energy costs are involved in the transportation of furniture and raw materials. When items are produced locally, the environmental footprint is much smaller.

We strive to meet or exceed all regulatory or industry standards in terms of safety and potential emissions to the environment. No resource is more important than the health of our associates. We set and continually review objectives and targets to protect our global environment. We seek not only to comply with safety and environmental regulations, but also to implement in-house standards to continuously improve our environmental performance and reduce our environmental footprint.

We believe in renewable energy. We will continue our efforts to reduce energy use by combusting scrap wood and sawdust to generate power for our manufacturing facilities.

We believe that recycling is critical to pollution prevention: Computers, ink cartridges, batteries, paper, cotton, fabric and leather scraps, cardboard, pallets, fluorescent bulbs, cans, glass and bottles, etc. Every employee is empowered and motivated to recycle whenever possible and systems are in place to maximize our recycling efforts.

Century has been recognized with the coveted Sustainable by Design registration, awarded by the American Home Furnishings Alliance (AHFA) for the company's achievements on a path of environmental stewardship. To enter AHFA's Sustainable by Design program Century first had to implement an environmental management program known as EFEC, which required all facilities to analyze the environmental impact of their operations. This resulted in improved management of resources and raw materials, reduced energy and water consumption, reduced waste and improved recycling efforts.

Sustainable by Design required the company to extend its culture of environmental stewardship throughout its global supply chain. For each key area on a checklist, Century established goals and a system for evaluating annual achievement. These key areas included:

- Supply chain management, including assisting suppliers worldwide in the development and implementation of sustainability programs.
- Using eco-friendly materials, including low VOC/low HAP coatings, certified lumber and low-emitting UF resins.
- Global climate impact, including calculating a baseline carbon footprint.
- Social responsibility, including policies defining the company's commitment to workers' rights and community relations in all areas of the world where Century does business.
