Eclipse Iron Wall Art

Iron lets oxidation do the artwork. The Eclipse wall art uses a clean circular form to frame a naturally patinated surface, where warmer smooth areas meet heavily textured rusted patches. Because the patina develops through the oxidation of iron, every piece carries its own variation. The result feels organic, almost geological, and impossible to repeat. One disc, a whole landscape, and no two quite alike.

- Circular Surface Story: A clean iron disc lets the naturally patinated surface take focus, turning simple geometry into wall-mounted art, so the surface keeps changing in the light.
- Oxidized Iron Character: Natural oxidation creates warmer smooth areas and heavily textured rusted patches, giving each piece rich surface variation, so the surface keeps changing in the light.
- One Of A Kind: The patina develops naturally through the iron, so every Eclipse wall sculpture has its own unrepeatable composition, so the surface keeps changing in the light.
