Clark Counter Table Brown

A round top, a beveled edge, and a base that earns its keep. Set on a tapered pedestal with a round wooden foot, the Clark gathers four at counter height with a grounded, sculptural stance. Solid mango wood brings warm grain and natural variation, and a stain-resistant surface keeps it ready for daily use. Carved indents at each end of the tapered post add a quiet, considered detail. Pull up a stool—there's always room for four.

- All in the Edge: A round top with a beveled edge brings a smooth, grounded look to the counter, anchoring the space with warmth and natural character.
- Solid Mango Wood: Crafted from solid mango wood, the top carries warm grain and natural variation, so every counter table brings its own character to the room.
- Steady Pedestal Base: A tapered pedestal sits on a round wooden base, lending stability underfoot, while carved indents at each end add depth and quiet detail.
- Made for Four: Counter-height proportions seat up to four, and a stain-resistant surface stands up to daily spills, keeping it ready for mornings and meals alike.
