

CURREY

& COMPANY

Sergio Bar Cabinet

3000-0206

Overall: 40.5"h x 38"w x 20.75"d

Finish: Chestnut Burl/Black/Ash/Brass

Materials: OAK/MAHOGANY/ELM/ASH/BRASS

Item Weight: 179 lb

Celebrating the art of marquetry, the Sergio Bar Cabinet is a mix-master when it comes to woodgrains. The species include oak, ash, elm burl, and mahogany. The diamond pattern on the doors was inspired by a floor our Director of Furniture Aimee Kurzner noticed in Las Vegas. She says, "Many patterns are not new but I try to find a way to interpret and/or present them in a different way either by material, application, color, scale, or repetition." The design of this black bar cabinet, which received a tremendous amount of forethought, brings it a high level of versatility that includes reversible shelves that flip to a flat surface on one side for storing liquor, glasses, and other accoutrements; and a shelf that cradles wine on the other. Thin linear brass lips on the tops of the doors, which serve as handles, match the ferrules. A glass top for this piece is sold separately.

this information is accurate as of 03/02/2022 16:54