Dusk Accent Table Rainforest Brown Marble

Two slabs of marble, one slim brass post calling the shots. That structure-play gives the Dusk accent table a contemporary, minimal silhouette, with a brass-finished iron post drawing a clean line between two pieces of Rainforest Brown marble. The natural stone brings veining unique to each piece, so no two tables read quite the same. The marble top holds drinks and books while the base keeps the whole piece grounded. Small footprint, big architectural moment.

- Structure-Play Silhouette: A marble base and top bridged by a slim brass-finished post give the table a contemporary, minimal silhouette with a clear sense of structure.
- Marble And Brass: A Rainforest Brown marble base and top frame a brass-finished iron post, pairing natural stone with warm metal for a clean, design-forward contrast.
- One Of A Kind Stone: Because the base and top are natural marble, veining and tone vary table to table, so each Dusk carries its own stone character.
- Small-Scale Anchor: A small footprint makes the table easy to place beside a sofa or chair, while its architectural form gives a tight corner a focal point.
