Bode Wall Sculpture Aged Brass

Metal that knows how to soften up. Bode turns iron into a quiet moment of movement—ripples and folds that catch light like fabric, but hold their shape like sculpture. Finished in aged brass, it brings warm tone and layered texture to blank walls, with a surface designed to develop a natural patina over time. Hang it when the room needs depth, not clutter.

- Rippled Presence: Soft folds and ripples bring movement to the wall, creating shadow and shine that feel artful, not busy all day.
- Iron, Warmed Up: Crafted from iron and finished in aged brass for a golden tone that plays nicely with wood, stone, and neutrals.
- Finish That Evolves: Aged brass is designed to patina over time, adding natural variation and visual interest as the surface settles into its surroundings.
