Lotus Framed Painting

Color that knows how to drift without disappearing. Lotus is a contemporary abstract with a soft-focus, fluid feel—like pigment moving through water, then deciding to stay. Tonal greens set the grounding note, while soft pinks and yellows bloom through the surface in a nod to its namesake flower. Painted in acrylic on felt and framed in solid pine, it brings an organic calm that still feels design-forward.

- Fluid Contemporary Mood: Blurred, blended color creates a sense of movement that reads calm and current—an easy way to soften a space without going quiet.
- Acrylic On Felt: Acrylic paint on a felted ground adds gentle depth, letting tonal greens, pinks, and yellows layer like a natural wash.
- Solid Pine Frame: A warm pine frame gives the piece a clean edge and a grounded finish that works across mixed materials and styles.
